ANDALUSIA AND TROY TO PLAY GAME OF WEEK

All but one of the higher ranking South Alabama Conference football teams run into league opponents this weekend in a round of action that should shed some light on the chances of dethroning defending Enterprise this season.

While Enterprise is expected to gain a stronger grip in a game with a rebuilding team, Andalusia, Troy, Opp and Greenville will be battling for the vantage point from which to challenge the champions should they hit a stumbling block later in the season.

Eyes on Enterprise
Andalusia and Troy tonight in Andalusia in the conference game of the week with the winner given the best chance of overthrowing Enterprise. After a slow start in a non-conference game, Andalusia has bounced back to move into the thick of the fight with conference victories over Evergreen and Laverne, and a win over Troy would move them to the top of the standings.

However, Troy rated a co-favorite with Enterprise for the conference crown in pre-season rankings, is rated a slight favorite to dethrone Andalusia, and held a rugged Robert E. Lee eleven to a 13 to 0 win in the rain last weekend.

Opp plays Greenville
With that loss to Troy already on the record Opp will be battling to remain in the scrap in a game with Greenville on the Opp field Friday night. Greenville, runner-up to Enterprise last season and a perennial challenger, will be making its first conference start of the season and is a definite underdog as Coach Luke Whetstone undertakes a rebuilding job.

Another contender for the title, Georgiana, goes outside the family circle to entertain Fl. Deposit this week after knocking off Florida last Friday night to move into a first place tie with Andalusia in the conference standings.

Evergreen plays host to W. S. Neal, and Laverne entertains Brantley in non-conference games, and Florida and Oak Park have open dates this week.

Osceola Cooper Is Dead at 75 Years

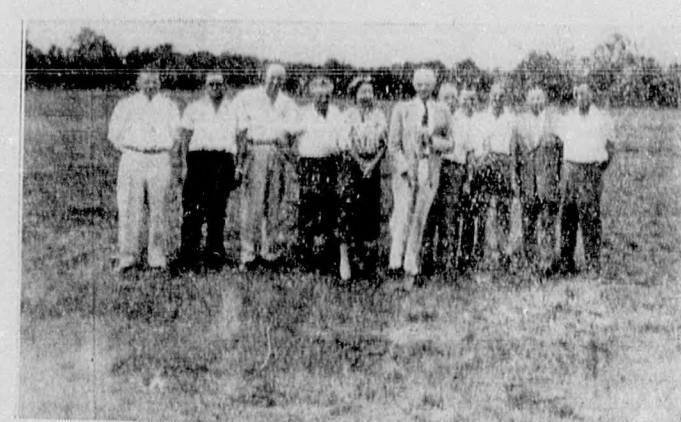

Osceola Cooper, 75, life-long resident of Coffee County, died Sept. 29, at his home in the Pine Level Community, following a long illness. He was a progressive farmer and operated a store at Pine Level for a number of years. He was a son of Marion and Martha Taylor Cooper.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Gladys Bowers Cooper, a daughter, Miss Martha Anne Cooper, a step-son, Lamar Killingsworth, Elba Route 2; three brothers, Oscar Cooper, Mobile; Martin Cooper, Opp; and Willie Cooper, Elba; four sisters, Mrs. Alene Bowden, Columbus, Ga.; Mrs. A. N. Spurlin, Elba; Mrs. A. Q. Spurlin, Andalusia Route; Mrs. Herschel Taylor, Elba.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock at Pine Level Church with the Rev. C. M. Messick officiating. Interment in the church cemetery with Hayes Funeral Home directing.

Mechanical honey production appears to be in the offing; U. S. Department of Agriculture engineers say mechanical handling of large beehives may be just around the corner.

YOUTH RALLY OF METHODISTS TO BE OCT. 12

The Annual Fall Youth Rally of the Alabama-West Florida Conference, The Methodist Church, will be held on Saturday, October 12, 1957 from 10:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Blue Lake Methodist Camp near Andalusia, Alabama.

All intermediates, seniors, older youth, adult workers with youth, pastors, and friends of youth are invited. The theme for the Rally is "Peace in the World." Features include an address on "World Destruction," and a drama "Summer Laboratory." Each local church group must register by post-card the number of persons who will want the noon meal at the camp. Send cards to the Rev. Solman Bradley, Box 294, Blue Lake Camp, Andalusia, Alabama before October 9, 1957. The noon meal will cost $1.00 per person and must be paid on arrival at the camp. Groups may bring picnic lunch, if they desire.

We are expecting at least 1000 youth and adult workers at the Rally.

For further information ask the Methodist pastor in your local church.

This fall Youth Rally is one of the many activities provided for the Methodist Youth by the Board of Education of the Alabama-West Florida Conference.

NEMATODES SET WAR ON PLANTS UNDERGROUND

AUBURN—Soil-borne worms are shipping through Alabama soils, staging an underground attack on truck crops.

API Extension Horticulturist John Bagby said these pests—root knot nematodes—were found in two North Alabama counties during on tomatoes, okra, cucumbers, watermelons, and peppers during a recent survey.

Bagby said nematodes are microscopic worms which feed on the roots of many different plants, causing galls or swellings and choking off water and plant food passage to leaves and stems.

When starting to bear fruit, plants which have been attacked by the worms usually become stunted, begin to wilt, and may even die from lack of moisture and plant food. This condition is especially noticeable in dry weather.

In addition to damage caused by nematodes themselves, the attack that they lose their resistance to fusarium wilt and other diseases. Disease organisms also may enter plant roots through wounds made by nematodes.

Nematode infested soil will tell the sad tale now, said Bagby. Pull up a number of plants in various parts of the field and examine the roots for knots or swellings. If many plants are affected, yields will surely be reduced. Should this be the case, it's advisable to plan to take some action against a return of nematodes next year.

Several materials now on market will give satisfactory control. Ethylene dibromide, DD and nematic are probably best for field use. Methyl bromide, vapam and VC-13 should give good results in plant beds and other small areas.

FALL FESTIVAL PROGRAM NEARS DEFINITE SHAPE

A complete program for the First Annual Elba Fall Festival will be ready to be announced next week, it was stated yesterday by Josh Tatum, chairman of the Inter-Club Council in charge of arrangements.

The date has been tentatively set for the weekend of October 26, Mr. Tatum said, though this is subject to confirmation within the week.

A program designed to offer a good time for all who come to Elba has been the subject of committee meetings during the last several weeks and have developed to the point where definite arrangements are taking shape, Mr. Tatum said.

The Inter-Club Council is composed of representatives from all the civic clubs and organizations of Elba and has undertaken the Fall Festival as an annual event designed for a good time and to publicize the progress of Elba and Coffee County.

ALA. POWER CO. PAYS TAX TO GO FOR EDUCATION

Alabama Power Company today paid its 1957 kilowatt-hour tax amounting to $41,143. This is in addition to all other taxes—local, state and federal—paid by the Company aggregating approximately $21,900, of which it is estimated $1,900,000 will go to schools and other educational activities. It is the largest item of the Company's expense.

The kilowatt-hour tax is imposed as an aid to education. Of the amount being paid by the Power Company today, eleven cents will go to education.

By the decision of the judges Miss Ennis, a student at Elba High, won the right to represent Elba in the Beauty Pageant Oct. 18 at DeFuria as a highlight of the National Peanut Festival and Fair.

Miss Ennis was sponsored by Wise's Men's and Boy's Wear; Mrs. Larkins was sponsored by the N. E. A. Division of Classroom Teachers Mrs. J. W. Kendrick, of Elba, District Director presided and introduced the speaker.

Explains Program
Miss Lahli explained the expanded program of NEA adopted at the recent Centennial Convention in Philadelphia. She urged all school personnel to give dedicated service to the program and its slogan: "An educated people moves freedom forward."

District 3 is composed of Coffee, Barbour, Dale, Geneva, Crenshaw, Houston, Covington, and Henry Counties. Mrs. C. L. Locke, Director of Professional Relations of Montgomery, represented the Alabama Education Association.

Following the dinner Robert Hall, Music director of Elba Schools, accompanied the piano by Mrs. W. M. Ringsdorf, led in group singing.

Funny Skit
A skit entitled "Some Unfettered Birds of the Teaching Profession" was given by a group of Elba teachers and students.

Marion Brunson read a letter adopted by members of the Enterprise school system addressed to Mrs. Kendrick, calling for a concerted effort toward securing better salaries for teachers. A brief discussion followed during which Superintendent St. John of Opp, Mrs. Averitt and Miss Davis of Enterprise spoke on this subject.

Mrs. Kendrick appointed a committee, with Mr. Brunson as chairman, to make plans to present this matter to District 3 AEA meeting in Enterprise, Oct. 26.

The cafeteria was appropriately decorated with massive arrangements of golden glow, goldenrod and other fall flowers, accented by a soft light from egg shell candles on the long banquet tables.

School Class Begun For Handicapped

A special classroom for physically handicapped children has been established in the Elba Elementary School with Mrs. Miriam Kennedy as teacher, according to School Superintendent S. J. Casey. The class offers instructions in grades 2 through 5.

Mrs. Kennedy was transferred to the special class from teaching Social Studies in the Fifth Grade where she was replaced by Mrs. Mary Ann Riley. The change became effective Monday.

TIGERS TO TRY FOR FIRST WIN IN ENTERPRISE

Elba High will make its third try for a victory this season, when the Tigers journey to Enterprise tomorrow, in their final game before Homecoming the next week.

The Tigers want to Opp Saturday where they took a 41-0 pounding from a powerful Bobcat eleven for the first such heavy loss in several years. Elba was handicapped from the start with Mike Corbett and Jerry Fuller unable to make the trip because of illness.

Opp ran roughshod over Elba from the first whistle to the last. Opp Quarterback McKinney threw two touchdown passes to End Kinney Griffin and paved the way for two more tallies by completed aerials in the face of a weak Tiger pass defense.

Elba's passes gained no yardage. Quarterback Carl Nelson threw three passes, all incomplete. The Tiger ground attack never got started and was equally weak on defense.

After tomorrow's scheduled game with Enterprise, the next game for Elba will be against Florida in the season's Homecoming planned to begin with a downtown parade and other festivities.

Commission Acts On Road Improvements

Ray Brooks, of Montgomery, was awarded contract for the purchase of a motor grader used in road building by the Coffee Board of Commissioners last week, on his bid of $15,600 as the lowest of four submitted.

The board also voted $4,000 for fire control, provided for sealing coat on the road from Wilksboro to Pike county line, a distance of about five miles, asked for bids on a 2 1/2-ton truck, and directed the county engineer to survey and make plans for improvement of the road from Basin School southeasterly to the J. T. Pierce place to intersect with the Jna Perry's store road, a distance of about four miles.

The cafeteria was appropriately decorated with massive arrangements of golden glow, goldenrod and other fall flowers, accented by a soft light from egg shell candles on the long banquet tables.

Mr., Mrs. McDowell Are Back From Trip

C. B. McDowell, a member of the Elba Clipper staff for 30 years, returned last week from a two-month absence during which he visited with relatives in New Mexico, Missouri, and Decatur, Ga., traveling by bus approximately 3,000 miles.

He was accompanied by Mrs. McDowell. He has written an account of his trip which it is planned to publish in the near future.

POOR ORIGINAL

Through the Keyhole

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

The First Baptist Church of Elba was the setting for the marriage of Miss Louise Gwyn Dismukes, (above left), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jackson Dismukes, to Mr. James Wiley Diamond of Pensacola, Florida, (above right), son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Diamond of Jay, Florida, on Sunday afternoon, September 22, at half after three. The Rev. Murray Seay officiated.

Mr. James Patrenos presented a program of nuptial music which included the traditional wedding march, Mrs. Bibb Jones, of Andalusia, sister of the bride, sang "I Love Thee," "All the Things You Are," and "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction.

The sanctuary was decorated in pink. Tall pink candles burning in cathedral candelabra illuminated the standard basket of pink carnations placed ed at the altar. A graceful white iron lace arch was entwined with carnations and greenery.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her gown was fashioned of satin and net with a fitted bodice which dropped to a V in the back. Lace patterns were applied on the bouffant skirt which well floor-length. The cap sleeves were complimented by long white gloves. The bridal veil was of tulle attached to a pearl trimmed satin cap. The bride carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid showered with fleur-de-amor, stephanotis, and lily of the valley.

The bride was attended by Miss Tulah Dismukes, her sister who served as Maid of Honor, Miss Martha Lee, Miss Mary Ruth Hilton of Panama City, Miss Dixie Dickert of Panama City, and Miss Sue McKenzie of Evergreen acted as bridesmaids.

The bridesmaids' dresses were of delicate pink tulle over tulle with a deeper pink crushed cummerbund. They were styled with a Sabina in the front slashed to a deep V at the back. In their hair they wore miniature hats of pink lace and ribbons to which short veils were attached. Their shoes were of pink satin and they carried bouquets of deep pink carnations. The color shades were reversed in the Maid of Honor's gown.

The candles were lighted by the groom's brother, Mr. Wayne Diamond of the standard basket and the bride's niece, Miss Jacqueline Rieburg of Goshen. The ring bearer was Miss Terry Dismukes of Clifton, nephew of the bride and the flower girl was Miss Gloria Jean Rieburg of Goshen, niece of the bride.

Mr. Bill Sanders of Milton, Florida was best man; Mr. Jim Cook, of Evergreen, Mr. Jack Ruark, of Pensacola, Mr. Patrick Knight, of Selma, and Mr. Floyd Griffin, of Elba, were groomsmen.

After the ceremony, the new couple received the guests in the church parlours. The same pastel color scheme was carried out here with large arrangements of pink carnations being used about the room.

Mrs. Cecil Prescott greeted the guests and introduced them to the receiving line. Mrs. Dismukes wore a dress of pink antique tulle and Mrs. Diamond wore pink lace. Both wore orchid corsages.

Miss Judy Pinckard presided over the bride's register. Mrs. Charles Farris cut the wedding cake, which Mrs. Frank Riley, of Elba, Miss Rosalee Davis, and Miss Diane Pinkard of Troy, and Miss Cornelia Ellis of Montgomery served the guests. Miss Evelyn Fleming of Brundidge presented a repertoire of musical numbers at the piano.

Later in the evening Mr. Diamond and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Florida. They will reside in Pensacola where Mr. Diamond is employed by the Chemstrand Co.

The home of Mrs. Harold Parker was especially pretty on Thursday, Sept. 26th, when she entertained at a tea honoring Mrs. Braxton Dewberry. Other hostesses included Mrs. Icie Blackman, Mrs. Robert Miller and Miss Louise Gaines.

Mrs. Dewberry was, before her marriage on Sept. 25th, Miss Reta Faye Farris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Farris. The reception rooms were decorated with a color scheme of pink and green. Colonial bouquets of pink carnations were placed about the room.

Refreshments were served from the dining table which was covered with a lace cloth placed over a pink undershirt. Tall pink candles burned in crystal candelabra, which were encircled at the base by pink carnations and greenery. The punch bowl was surrounded with delicate greenery interspersed with split carnations. The ribbons from this arrangement were draped down one side of the table.

Miss Ann Miller registered the guests and Miss Louise Dewberry and Miss Betty Farris served. About sixty friends of the honoree called.

Parties seem to be in vogue these days even tho the weather has been anything but cheerful.

Young Ricky Rainer celebrated his third birthday last weekend with an intimate gathering of his friends. Coming to wish him a "Happy Birthday" were Mary Collier, Cindy Stokes, Nina Meschan, Lynn Marsh, Mark Vaughan, Vickie Vaughan, Skip Rainer, Beverly Rainer, Genna Kendrick, and Joey Murphree. Felicitations also go to a dear little one-year-old, Joey, son of Elmer and Joel Murphree, has crowned all other achievements by learning to walk.

Mrs. Geo. Lindsey Entertains For Miss Howell

Miss Carolyn Howell, whose marriage to Mr. James Patterson, will take place Oct. 17, was honored last Wednesday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. George Lindsey.

The party rooms were very inviting with arrangements of mixed summer flowers. The dining room was decorated in the bridal colors of green and white. The dinner table was covered with a handsome white organza cloth over green satin. The center piece was a crystal punch bowl, flanked on each side by silver candelabras, each holding five emerald canals. Green satin ribbons hung in loops from each corner which held twenty bouquets of white split carnations and baby mums.

Lottie Miss Candace Oggs, dressed in bridal dress and veil, and Frank Johnson, dressed as a groom, passed out napkins and served dainty green and white mints and toasted nuts. Mrs. J. D. Whitman greeted the guests at the door and presented them to the receiving line composed of Mrs. George Lindsey, Miss Howell, the honoree, and her mother, and the groom's mother of Apalachicola.

Mrs. Colon Whitman escorted them to the refreshment table where Mrs. G. P. Miles, Mrs. Edgar Vaughan and Miss Flournoy Whitman served punch and sandwiches. Miss Frances Connor presided over the brides book and registered guests. Miss Lottie Fortner and Mrs. Jess Whitman displayed the many beautiful gifts.

During the afternoon Miss Carolyn Deal and Mrs. Leslie Johnson rendered piano selections. Mrs. Corinne English vocalist, sang "The Rosary", "Because", and "Indian Love Call".

The honoree was becomingly dressed in an afternoon cocktail length dress of tulle and tulle. She wore silver slippers and her corsage was of white carnations. Fifty-five guests called during the party hours from 4 to 6.

This same group was feted on Sunday at the bride's home when Tulah Dismukes entertained for her sister.

Enjoyed chatting with Mrs. Icie Blackman, who told us that her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bush of Montgomery, visited her this weekend. Mrs. Blackman has also enjoyed the company of her cousin, Mrs. Grady Mix of Culman, this past week.

The arrival of a son and heir is always heralded with glad shouting and the Fox Brunson's Jr. are no exceptions. Their third child and first son arrived last week. The proud uncle, Marlon Brunson, was popping all his vest buttons when he told us the news. The Fox Brunsons' Sr. and Marlon left Friday for a weekend visit to Mobile to see the fine young man.

TIGERS WILL PLAY FLORALIA IN NIGHT GAME

Governor James E. Folsom has accepted an invitation to attend Elba High School homecoming this week which has been arranged as a special tribute to the class of '57, of which the governor is a member.

The governor's acceptance was contained in a call from Ed Brown, press secretary for the governor, to the committee in charge, saying that he would attend with Mrs. Folsom. The time of his arrival was not stated but he hopes to be here in time to join in the parade.

Homecoming will begin officially Friday at 2 p.m. with a parade. The parade will be in the theme "Shades of '57-57" with scenes reminiscent of this 30-year span portrayed from the marching first graders to this year's senior class.

CLASS MEMBERS
The Class of '57 will be honored with a dinner in the Elba High School library at 6:30 p.m. Members of that class are Gov. James E. Folsom, Montgomery, Mrs. Jessie L. Windham, Mrs. Pearl B. Mosely, Mrs. Kittle M. Johnson, Mr. Bruce Crook, and Mr. Harvie Locklear, Elba; Miss Beulah Knight, Elba; Miss Lane, Elba; Miss Gleda, Elba; Miss Rhodes, Pensacola, Mrs. Irma Lee Clark, Arton; Mr. Phillip Haman, Naples, Fla.; Mr. Paul Vaughan, Ozark; Mr. Alfred Seymour, West Palm Beach; Mr. Collins Brown, Headland; Mrs. Audie May B. Cooper, Columbus; Mrs. Mildred L. Hart, Wingo; Mrs. Margaret H. Cole, Eufaula. A happy reunion is anticipated for this group.

The Junior Class is sponsoring the sale of tickets for the old fashioned bar-b-que to be served in the school cafeteria from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m.

GAME AT 8 P.M.
The spirited battle on the gridiron begins at 8 p.m. when Elba meets Floralia. The coaches and team predict a "great game" for the Homecoming game.

A warm welcome has been extended to everyone to attend the reception in the school cafeteria immediately following the ball game. The gym will be open at the same time to offer a party atmosphere for guests and dancing.

Rejoicing as Queen of the 1957 Homecoming will be attended by two other attractive members of the Senior Class. They will be Mary Spinks and Frances Barlow.

FLORALIA, ELBA SEEK VICTORY
The Floralia Wildcats under coach Hugh McCreary will journey to Elba Friday night to give battle to the Elba High Tigers in their Homecoming game. The contest should be interesting as the two teams are very evenly matched. Potshots have an 8-2 record for the season, and will be looking for their first win. Kickoff time will be at 8:00 in Elba Stadium.

Prospects look good for the Elba team, for most of the players are back in school after a bout with the flu that caused the postponement of the Elba-Enterprise game. After hard practice this week, the boys should be back in good shape and ready to play Friday night.

Failure to report income above the legal limits will be costly to veterans or their survivors receiving pensions, Harry A. Smith, manager of the Ala. VA regional office said.

Plummer had been commuting from his home in Greenville to Montgomery where he worked in a grocery brokerage firm. Police recovered $14,523 of the missing money.

Plummer is quoted as having said he used the remainder to pay bills.

Plummer was sentenced by U. S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr.

Troy Homecoming To Open Saturday
TROY—Dr. C. B. Smith, president of Troy State College, has announced Saturday, Oct. 12, as the date for the college's homecoming.

The program this year will honor the classes of 1916, 1917, and 1918, with special emphasis upon a reunion of the class of 1917 which will celebrate its 40th anniversary.

HURT AT DORSEY'S
Lawson Spauld, one of the Dorsey Trailers' plant's oldest employees in point of service, was severely injured Tuesday, when a pile of steel fell on him. He was carried to Enterprise Hospital where an X-ray showed that he suffered a broken arm and cuts and bruises but no serious internal injuries. He received a severe gash above his eye but it was reported that the eyesight was not affected.

MEETING POSTPONED
The regular meeting of Elba Chapter No. 323, Order of Eastern Star, has been postponed indefinitely from Thursday night because of illness of several of the officers.

RENEWED PLEA
Senator Sparkman has again called on President Eisenhower to withdraw Federal troops from Little Rock "as a first step toward restoring the principle of States Rights, and rebuilding the confidence and goodwill between the two races so essential to the well-being of both."

POLIO DECREASES
Montgomery—Alabama had 40 cases of polio by the end of September, according to reports received by the State Health Department. Fifty-five cases had occurred during the same period last year.

URGES CONSERVATION
Gov. James E. Folsom has urged all Alabamians to give "special emphasis to protecting and making wise use of Alabama's soil and water resources." In a statement issued declaring Oct. 21-27 as Soil Conservation District Week in the State.

J. J. Farris Widow Dies in Montgomery
Mrs. Margaret Brown Farris, resident of Montgomery for the past 30 years, died unexpectedly at her home in Montgomery Sunday morning.

Mrs. Farris was the widow of the late John J. Farris, native of Elba, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Farris pioneer residents of Elba. He was principal of Sidney Lanier High School in Montgomery for a number of years. She had many friends here.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. J. E. Pierson, St. Simons Island, Ga., mother, Mrs. Nellie S. Brown, Montgomery; four brothers, Carl E. Brown and J. B. Brown, both of Excel; F. C. Brown, Los Angeles, Calif.; and George L. Brown, Mobile; two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Nettles, Redmond-Windham, and Miss Marie Farris, Montgomery.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from White Chapel, Montgomery, with Dr. Charles S. Forester officiating. Interment in Greenwood cemetery.

A number of Elba relatives attended the funeral services.

Open House
Dorsey Trailers, Inc., has agreed to hold Open House all day for the accommodation of the crowd of visitors expected in Elba that day who wish to see the manufacture of trailers from start to finish.

Plans are being made for a livestock show at the Livestock Mart on Opp Highway.

A barbecue will be held in the Public Square at noon.

Rucker Display
A display of helicopters and planes from Fort Rucker will be on the ground at the Elba Airport so that visitors may see planes of close range. The display will also include various weapons of modern warfare.

"Come to Elba Oct. 26" is the slogan of the Inter-Club Committee working almost round the clock rounding plans into shape to assure all visitors a good time.

MEET TO STUDY BIBLE PLANNED BY METHODISTS
Methodist Ministers of this area announced yesterday their plans for an Adult Bible Conference to be held at Opp Methodist Church, Oct. 17-18.

The Bible Conference is a program designed to meet the rapidly growing interest in the Bible. This will be done by introducing methods by which one can systematically study the Bible and dramatically illustrating how the Bible can speak to our generation. The presentation will consist of a series of three lectures and a variety of new group procedures, each session being different from the next.

Dr. W. A. Smart of Chandler School of Theology, Emory University, will be the resource leader. He is considered one of America's foremost authorities on the New Testament. Dr. Smart will speak on the Epistle to the Romans, his three topics being—Need for Salvation, Means of Salvation, Results of Salvation. "It is significant," says Dr. Smart, "that the study of this epistle, in one form or another, touched off all the great reformations from John Huss to John Wesley."

Each of the sessions will begin at 7:30 P.M. and will last for two hours.

An invitation is extended to all who would like to attend.
